Dear Prayer Partners:

How encouraging to hear such positive reports from around the world about our Thursday morning prayer meeting! Our Army is consistently coming before the Lord in praise, thanksgiving and intercession. I believe our Lord loves this unity in prayer. He will bless our Army in ways that exceed any expectation. The Vision will be realised. The Mission Priorities will take root. Already there is evidence of answers to prayer.

In my last letter, I asked you to encourage others to join. When I check out the Worldwide Prayer Meeting page on our International web site to view the responses on Facebook and Twitter, and read the letters and reports that come to me, I see that you are spreading the word and inviting others to join. Thank you sincerely for this.

Previously, when encouraging increase in the Thursday prayer meeting I have been thinking in terms of an increase in numbers. However, one retired officer told me that his corps is looking at increasing the hours – they plan to set up a 12-hour prayer vigil each Thursday. Another officer looks forward to an Army on its knees every day. Praise the Lord for such initiatives and desires.

Let's keep praying through the Mission Priorities, adding our own specific requests for our corps, centres, division, and territory. From time to time, other urgent prayer topics will reach you from the Communications Secretary. Please continue to pray that we will understand what it means and what it takes to be One Army, with One Mission and One Message. Yes, the unity is a gift of the Spirit but the Spirit also asks that we too play our part to be one with him and with each other.

May the light of his face shine on his people bringing strength, guidance, unity and daring.

God bless you richly,

Linda Bond
General
